

Tuesday, 28th April

Good Morning, Eagles. Here are your Tuesday tasks. The weather isn't meant to be too good today so maybe the stay active treasure hunt can keep you busy indoors. Parents see below. A little prep work is needed. Stay safe. ~ Mrs Reeves~

English

Today's one-off task is something different. It's called A Giant's Game. It is a picture for you to work from. There are 5 pages which contain a task on each. Page 5 seems to be a copy from a previous day. So, here is my task for page 5.

Draw a detailed picture of the giants. What do they look like? How many were playing? Where were they playing? What kind of game was it between them?

You could also complete the Fix the Sentence task from yesterday.

Word of the Day

Week 2's Power Point is on Monday's post.

Today's word is 'zoological'

Maths

White Rose Maths.

Today is angles in polygons.

Keep up the great work with angles. You have revised so much great information!

Music

Here is Week 2 of the BBC Ten Pieces. This week is music by Steve Reich.

It allows you to listen and learn about the piece and then hopefully be inspired to create some music using body percussion.

Today I have found a stay active treasure hunt. Parents, this one needs you to do a little prep work before it's started. All the information, cards and answers are on the blog. I'll let you think of an appropriate prize. Love to see some photos if you chose to do it! Children, no peeking!
