

As part of our current topic on The Romans, I would like you to carry out a Roman research project. This should be centred around one aspect of Roman life, such as Roman chariot racing, gladiators, Roman baths, roads, Hadrian's wall, Gods and Goddesses or mosaics.

For this project, I would like you to research your chosen theme and present your information either written and drawn as a poster or leaflet, or typed, or even as a PowerPoint presentation. Make it your creation Swallows, with your own creative flair. You could make a game (look at the Gods and Goddesses games on our previous post for inspiration) or even write a poem or song.

Swallows, I know what an imaginative bunch you are, stunning the whole school with your home learning projects on teeth and the digestive system. So, you may like to include a model. This could be as simple or extravagant as you wish! Some examples from last year were a cardboard box chariot stadium, clay Hadrian's wall, paper chariot, cardboard centurion helmet, swords, daggers, as well as a Roman baths and amphitheatre made of Lego (with batman in the crowd!).

I am so excited to see your creations!

Have fun children and parents!
